

Salon Owner Walkthrough

Refreshed June 26, 2026 after the owner-QA fixes. This version includes the top-level Knows Beauty page, current public funnel pages, the Featured owner dashboard, and the marketing tools a subscribed salon sees.

Current operational status: 35 of David's 36 QA items are complete. The remaining tracked item is production Stripe/env setup for the city-specific Featured price path; the approved card descriptor is EXPERTLY*KNOWS BEAUTY.

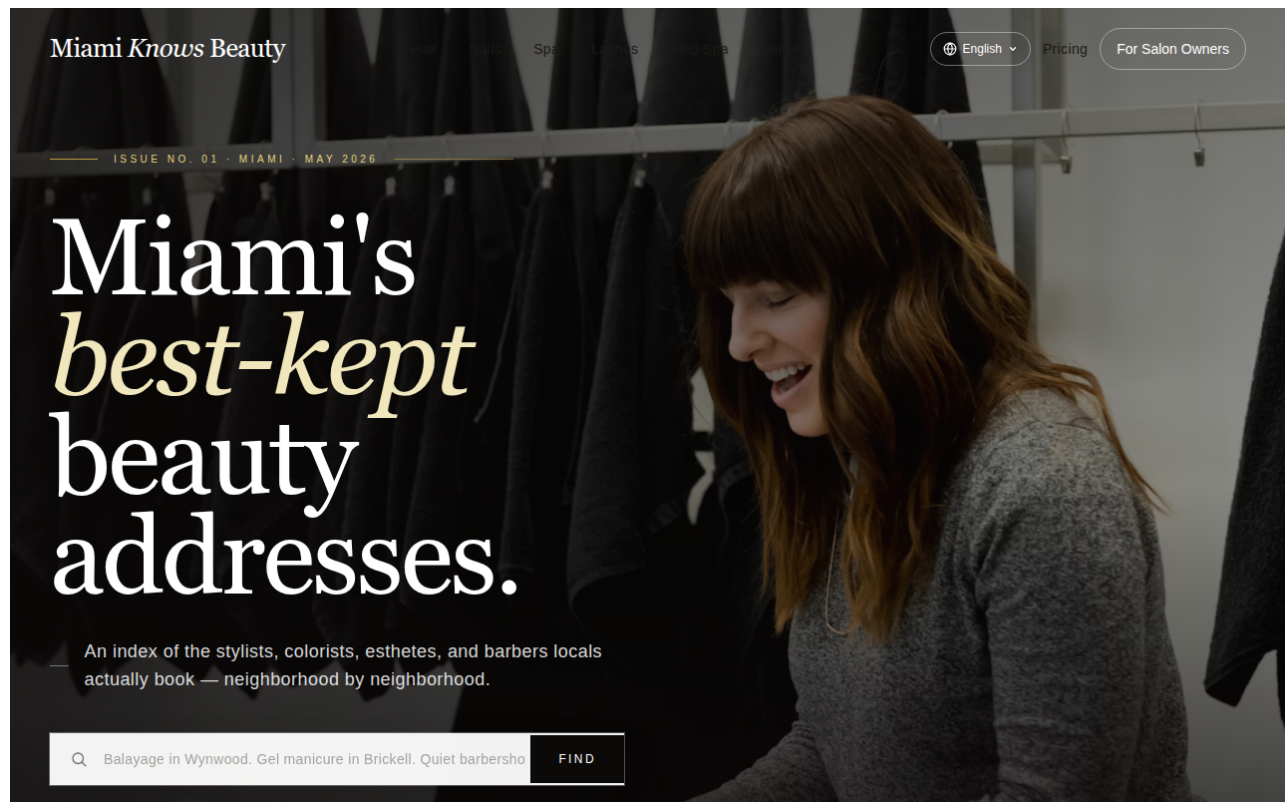

1. Knows Beauty network main page

The top-level Knows Beauty page now appears in the walkthrough, as requested. It frames the broader brand before a prospect lands on the Miami city site.

PM review: Good brand-level context. It makes Miami feel like part of a larger repeatable directory network rather than a one-off test page.

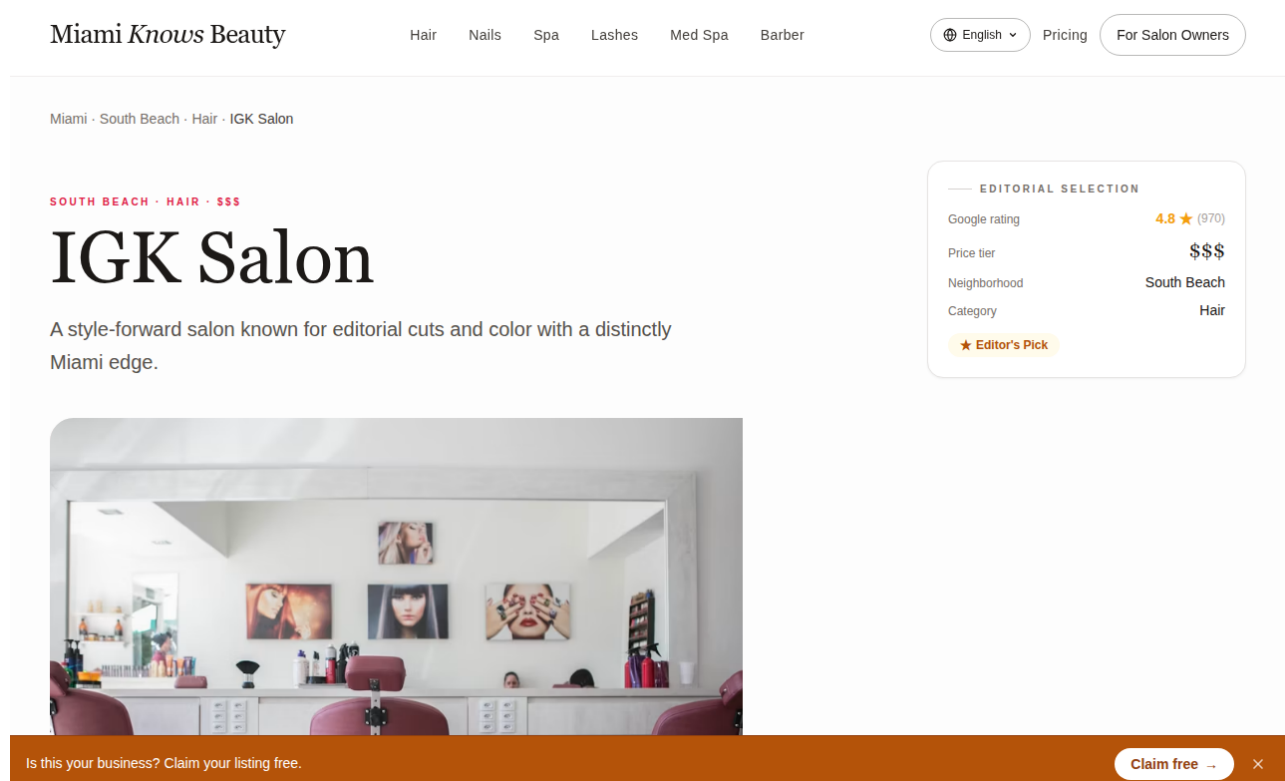

2. Miami directory homepage

The public Miami directory homepage: curated editorial framing, search/navigation, and visible salon cards.

PM review: Clean and outreach-ready. The page is credible for both shoppers and owners checking whether the guide feels real.

3. A live salon listing with claim path

A real listing page owners can inspect from outreach. It shows rating/count, contact actions, and a clear claim path.

PM review: Important trust check: the page is live and specific, not a placeholder. The claim CTA gives the owner an obvious next step.

The owner-facing pitch now leads with the flat $29/month, 0% commission value proposition instead of scarcity language.

PM review: This is the right sales argument for salons. It is concrete and avoids unsupported top-placement promises.

The public /walkthrough page explains the owner journey before an owner fills out a form.

PM review: Useful as a low-friction proof asset. It gives David a link to include when an owner wants to understand the flow first.
